

ARCHITECTURAL DIGEST

THE INTERNATIONAL MAGAZINE OF DESIGN

JANUARY 2010

THE WORLD'S 20 GREATEST DESIGNERS OF ALL TIME PLUS: THE NEW AD 100

John Barman

John Barman's inspirations go beyond the visual. "While I was decorating for Wynton Marsalis, he played the piano for me in his living room to inspire me," he says. Then there was the client associated with the Ballet Hispanico, who took him to see a dance performance to get color and design ideas for her apartment. Whatever the genesis of a design, Barman filters it through his own distinctive lens: "I want it to be inviting and comfortable, but I also want it to have an exciting edge and be infused with color," he explains. With a line of his carpets in development and with offices in New York, Miami and Los Angeles, Barman is surprised by the demand for his unique vision. "If I had known my business would expand nationally and internationally, I would have opened offices in other cities sooner."

John Barman, 500 Park Ave., Suite 14F, New York, New York 10022, 212-838-9443

10120th St., Suite THC-1503, Miami Beach, Florida 33134, 305-215-9990; www.johnbarman.com

John Barman

John Barman's inspirations go beyond the visual. "While I was decorating for Wynton Marsalis, he played the piano for me in his living room to inspire me," he says. Then there was the client associated with the Ballet Hispanico, who took him to see a dance performance to get color and design ideas for her apartment. Whatever the genesis of a design, Barman filters it through his own distinctive lens: "I want it to be inviting and comfortable, but I also want it to have an exciting edge and be infused with color," he explains. With a line of his carpets in development and with offices in New York, Miami and Los Angeles, Barman is surprised by the demand for his unique vision. "If I had known my business would expand nationally and internationally, I would have opened offices in other cities sooner."

John Barman, 500 Park Ave., Suite 14F, New York, New York 10022, 212-838-9443

101 20th St., Suite THC-1503, Miami Beach, Florida 33134, 305-215-9990; www.johnbarman.com